“ Nephew, I'm truly going to miss you especially the knocks on door that came on early Saturday mornings where I would answer “ what do you want mir” and he replied “let's ride”. I always made excuses as to why I couldn't but he wouldn't leave until we pulled off together. We would ride, go to breakfast, talk and laugh. By the time he was ready to go home I wasn't. Little did he know I looked forward to this every weekend and will truly miss it. Love “unc” (Randy)

Your outlook was always bright as well as the smile on your face. I will always cherish the times we all shared together as a family. Nephew, you have been one of our greatest joys. Until we meet again. Rest in peace! Love “Auntie” (Chelle)

“ Can't believe that we won't be seeing your smiling face any more. You were a kind, compassionate considerate man who had the insight into others to sense when they needed up lifting . I am sure you are looking down on all of us in disbelief that you have touched so many lives in a positive way. You were a true friend and your loss will be felt by many for a long time. Sleep with the angels my dear friend. Roe family

“ Growing up with Jamir came with a lot of laughs especially when it came to chores. He had the chore of taking out the trash, but somehow me and Mommy always ended up doing it. Every time. And he'd just smile like he didn't notice a thing.

But when it came to washing the dishes, he was right there at that sink. He washed, and I had to dry and put them away, two jobs to his one. I used to complain about it being unfair, but looking back, I wouldn't trade those moments for anything. That was our routine, our rhythm, our brother-sister thing.

Jamir was the best big brother a girl could ever ask for. He loved loud, he showed up, and he never left anything unsaid. He told you how he felt, he made sure you knew he cared, and he carried a heart bigger than anything.

I'm going to miss you, Brother Bear, More than words can ever say. Thank you for being you my protector, my friend, and one of my first examples of what unconditional love looks like.

Until we meet again. ❤️ your little SISTER
