“ John was my patient and friend we connected instantly. No matter how John was feeling when he knew I was coming to visit he would always greet me with warm and welcoming energy. Donna would say “John “your girlfriend is coming today” and when I arrived John, Donna and I would always have the best visits. It saddens me that I came into John’s life as his Hospice Nurse, but I’m so grateful that he trusted me and my knowledge of nursing to assist with his transition. John and I had many life conversations and he helped me see life in a different light. I will forever be thankful to John for the life lessons I have learned. John will be deeply missed!!
