“ I know you’re watching over us. I hope we’re making you proud. I miss you. You would tell me, “Noblesse oblige,” and I don’t think I truly understood those words until now. Thank you for everything; I hope you know you saved my life more than once. I will be forever grateful. Love you always.

To Russell's family. I too worked at the Springfield High School in the main office for 2 years before working for the assistant principals. She was a special lady and friend.
